

MUCH COMPLAINT IS MADE ON CHANGE OF TIME ON L. & N.

Citizens of Towns on Maysville Division Make Loud Complaint About Change in Time of Morning L. & N. Train.

The recent change in the L. & N. time table on this division of the L. & N. railroad has caused a great howl of complaint to go up from business men and residents in practically every town along the Maysville division of that road.

The morning and night trains, which have been the most used trains on the division have been changed to hours which make their use very disagreeable. The early morning train which previously left here at 5:40, now leaves at 5:05 a. m. and returning at night the train arrives here after nine o'clock. Traveling men of Maysville complain that the change in time makes it almost impossible to make connections at Paris and Lexington and delays them, in some instances, many hours in one of these two cities.

So strong has become the complaint along the division that it is reported that a petition will be circulated in all of the towns and cities affected petitioning the railroad authorities to move the time table back to its old time. Such a petition would receive many signatures in Maysville.

ANNUAL MUSICAL OF STUDENTS AND BANDS DELIGHTS A THROG

Washington Opera House Crowded Last Night at Annual Musical of Maysville Bands and Music Department of Schools.

The Washington Opera House was crowded to its limits last night at the annual concert of the Music Department of the Maysville City Schools and the Maysville Boys' Bands and everyone in attendance was more than pleased with the delightful program.

The music of the Junior Band was a great surprise to the audience and speaks volumes for the ability of Director Barnard. In a very short time this band has developed into something of which to be proud and many members will soon be able to take their places with the Senior Band when a larger band is needed. The duet by little Miss Snapp and little Mr. Blythe is the talk of the town this morning. These mere children demonstrated what is being done with youngsters in the local bands.

Our Senior Band, of which every Maysvillian and Masonian is justly proud, rendered a high class program such as might have been rendered by some of the masters and did it to perfection.

The vocal music by the various glee clubs of the High School was good and Mrs. Reese, the vocal director, is to be congratulated upon her work this year. Solo parts were well taken.

Solo dances by little Miss Virginia Watkins went big with the audience. This little lady has developed into a wonderful dancer within the past two years and has already become quite a favorite in Cincinnati. Her home town folks are quite proud of her. Miss Catherine Rosestein assisted her in a dance and displayed marked ability.

Mr. John O'Donnell, a master of the violin, delighted the audience with two master pieces.

MARRIED WOMEN MUST USE OWN NAME IN BUSINESS

Corporation Clerk Rules That Women in Corporations in Kentucky Must Use Own Names.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 23. — "Where a married woman is interested in a business separate from that of her husband, she must use her own Christian name instead of signing the initials of her husband," says a warning issued by W. M. Van Hoose, Corporation Clerk in the office of Secretary of State Fred Vaughn. He said that many corporation papers had to be returned for correction because married women insisted on signing their husband's initials instead of their own.

"Under the Kentucky laws a woman may contract, sue and be sued separately from her husband, when she operates or is interested in a business in which the husband has no interest," said Mr. Van Hoose. "In such cases it is not fair to the husband that he should be held responsible for her debts or debts of concerns with which he has no personal connection. But where the wife signs her husband's initials he can be held responsible for her debts, and for this reason she should use her own name."

"Many attorneys throughout the state apparently overlook this question in preparing corporation papers. In such cases the issuance of charters is delayed and extra expense incurred, for the papers have to be returned to the organizers for correction."

ALLEGED TOBACCO THIEVES ARE HELD

Fleming Men Charged With Stealing Tobacco Which They Sold Here, Held for Grand Jury.

The Fleming Gazette says: "Friday morning Scott Fields, Robt. Dollins and Bill Dollins were before Judge Fulton for hearing and each was held to answer to the grand jury, the former two in the sum of $1,000, and the last $300. The evidence showed that Scott Fields and Robt. Dollins were the same men who sold the mysterious tobacco at Cynthiana and did not wait to get their money. Where the tobacco came from is not yet known. Both men were identified by Maysville and Cynthiana parties. The cases against the defendants are strong ones and it looks like they are in serious trouble. The trial Saturday morning was largely attended and much interest was shown in the cases, especially by men who have tobacco in their barns.

"Scott Fields gave bond Saturday with his father as security. Robt. Dollins gave bond after his mother had arranged to transfer her property as security. Bill Dollins also gave bond."

HEARING IS BEGUN BEFORE MEMBER OF THE STATE BOARD

Hon. Clyde R. Levy Arrives Here to Investigate Claims Filed Before State Compensation Board for Various Injuries.

Hon. Clyde R. Levy, of Ashland, district member of the State Compensation Board, began this morning at the law offices of Hon. A. D. Cole in Court street, an investigation into several claims filed before that board by local people.

Probably the most important case to be investigated is that of Mrs. Benjamin Schumaker who is claiming full compensation, amounting to $4,000, for the death of her husband, night watchman at the Maysville Cotton Mills, who was killed by Henry Eddins and for whose death Eddins is now serving a life term in the Kentucky State Penitentiary.

This case was the first to be taken up by Mr. Levy and some six or eight others will follow. It is expected that it will require several days and probably an entire week for all of the investigations to be completed. Representatives of the various insurance companies who had insured the employees of the various concerns affected, are here to present their side of the cases.

This is the first investigation that has been held in Maysville by the State Workmen's Compensation Board.

PEACE PROGRAM OF PRESIDENT-ELECT HAS BEEN FRAMED

Negotiations For Reaching Peace Will Be Directed by Hon. Charles Evans Hughes, Secretary Of State.

St. Augustine, Fla., Feb. 23. — The program for bringing about speedy peace between the United States and Germany virtually has been decided upon by Warren G. Harding, president-elect.

It follows:
1. Passage of the Knox resolution or a similar measure declaring peace.
2. Informal exchanges between the United States and the allies and the United States and Germany to adjust financial matters and other questions relating to peace.
3. Dispatch of an American minister to Berlin and acceptance of a German minister at Washington with re-establishment of the consular service of both countries.

The negotiations would be conducted by Charles E. Hughes, secretary of state.
Many press dispatches from London said today Europe virtually was marking time waiting for the Harding administration to go into power before going ahead with settlement of reparations and other questions.

Any advance announcement of what the Harding administration intends to do for the guidance of the allies would be improper at this time, so it is expected practically nothing will be done toward winding up the war's affairs abroad until after Harding enters the White House.

OUR POLICY

To support such measures as are unquestionably for the good of County as an entire community, rather than such propositions as are of the individual interest, or of one section as against another. And to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the County as a whole.

THE PURPOSE OF THE ANTI-STRIKE BILL.

"There are many men of radical thought who concede non aligniance to the laws under which they live," declares Hon Jonathan Bourne, Jr. "They proceed to break them whenever the spirit moves, they are forcibly restrained by officers of the law. There are others who, while not as radically inclined as the former class, declare that they owe no duty toward society in general, and claim perfect freedom to do as they please so long as they do not actually break the peace.

"In line with his other attacks on the railroad anti-strike bill and the Esch-Cummins transportation act, Mr. Gompers declares that 'no law to compel workmen to work against their will or under condition detrimental to their welfare or health can be enforced.

"That sort of an argument, conveying as it does a misinterpretation of the anti-strike bill, carries an appeal to those who have a wrong conception of the meaning of Freedom.

"There are forms of industry that have become known as public utilities because of the direct dependence of the public upon them for continued life and comfort. Telephone and telegraph companies, gas and electric light companies, and steam and electric railroads are examples. Any concern of that character may be entirely the property of private individuals, but the law says that its service must be continuous and that its owners shall not be free to shut down their plant whenever it may suit them to do so. The activity of the public utility has become so necessary a part of the public welfare of the community that its sudden stoppage would bring disaster and probable loss of life. The interests of the people as a whole demand uninterrupted service.

"There has never been any complaint against a law that compels the owners of public utilities to give constant service. Both the owners and the rest of the people recognize its necessity if our social structure is to remain. The so-called wage earning class would be the very first to complain were the facilities afforded by the public utilities suddenly denied them. Yet Mr. Gompers takes the astonishing position that a law putting a limitation upon the actual owners of a utility must not be made to apply against the men who work for those owners and upon whose uninterrupted labor the utility's service depends.

"It is estimated that the number of railroad stockholders is 650,000, but many of them are banks, insurance companies, trust companies and other big corporations. Every bank depositor, policy holder, trust beneficiary, and owner of corporation stock is, therefore, the owner of an equity in the rail stock held by those concerns.
'It has been stated,' says the Bureau of Railway Economics, 'that the ownership equities of the American railways are in the hands of more than 50,000,000 people.' Now, the law demands and society requires that those people shall keep their properties in continuous operation for the benefit of all.

"In 1919, the latest figures available, there were 1,977,616 railroad employees. Mr. Gompers undertakes to say that while a law may protect the whole nation against the action of practically half of the people, it is impotent to provide similar protection against the action of the comparatively insignificant number of employees. Nobody, seeks to abridge the freedom of an individual employee to quit work, but when a conspiracy is manifest by which an organized group of workmen seek to cripple transportation to attain their own selfish ends, it is time for the Government to step in and restrain the forces of labor precisely as it has restrained the forces of capital. That is all that the anti-strike bill now pending in Congress seeks to do."

SYNTHETIC MILK.

It is reported that Thomas A. Edison and Henry Ford believe that synthetic milk, milk produced in the chemical laboratory, may become a common article of food, and that cows may pass into disuse.

We cannot conceive how Henry Ford's opinion in a matter of this kind can have any value. He is as ignorant of the processes of the chemical laboratory as he is of rhetoric and grammar, which is saying a good deal in the light of his cross-examination during the trial of his suit against a Chicago newspaper.

Mr. Edison is in a different class. His judgment carries great weight. With many persons it appears decisive.

But Mr. Edison did not commit himself in this instance beyond saying, when asked about the discovery of synthetic milk, that it is possible that in the future milk may be produced in the laboratory.

Synthetic milk, as a matter of fact, was being manufactured before the war. German chemists had solved the problem. The milk which they made contained every known element in com's milk. But unfortunately it lacked some unknown element without which it was worthless. That quantity, more powerful, it was discovered, than any known poison, only preservative of life rather than destructive of it, is not known today. Synthetic milk without it, is not true milk at all. Nature furnishes something which man has not identified.

The German chemists, in their experiments, fed the laboratory product to white mice, and they drooped and died. With a small portion of cow's milk added they thrived. With the residue left after every known element in cow's milk had been extracted, added to synthetic milk, they were perfectly nourished.

Science may yet put its finger upon this mysterious substance, and create a commercial product by laboratory methods which will take the place of milk. But it would seem the better part of wisdom to keep the cows and improve the breed, for at least, a few years more.

Nature cannot be laughed out of court just yet.

HOT, DIZZY FEELING

Atlanta Lady's Uncomfortable and Annoying Condition Relieved,
She Says, by Cardui.

Atlanta, Ga.—Miss Alice Frances Young, of 23 East Alexander Street, this city, says: "After entering womanhood, I suffered so much with womanly weakness. My back ached.
I would have, at certain times, a hot feeling that seemed to go to my head.
Even my shoulders would hurt, and it made me very dizzy and uncomfortable. When the blood would flow to my head—I suppose that was what it was—I would faint and feel so weak.
"I couldn't do my work. I had a good position, and this was surely annoying as well as embarrassing. I would usually have to go home and go to bed. I certainly suffered greatly.
"I heard of Cardui, and my mother bought it for me. It was the best and only medicine that ever did me any good for this trouble."

Dizziness, headache, sideache, backache, tired-out feeling and other disagreeable symptoms are often signs of womanly troubles. Thousands of women who formerly suffered from these and similar ailments have found Cardui
a very valuable remedy.
Cardui is composed only of pure, vegetable ingredients which have long been recognized as of medicinal value in the treatment of many diseases and disorders peculiar to women.

IN OLD KENTUCKY.

The Honor Roll.

Only Knott, Whitley and Magoffin counties, of more than 100 Kentucky counties listed by the Federal Government show no decrease of stock raising as a result of the difficulty now encountered by farmers in making a profit feeding stock for market.

These three mountain counties are upon the honor roll as food producers and soil constructors. Land still is cheap in the mountain counties, comparatively, and where it is fertile it still is profitable to produce market animals.

The rapid decline in values of market meat animals has caused discouragement and lessening of stock feed.
It is better, however, to feed 60 cent corn to ten cent hogs than to sell the grain. It is not to be expected that other arguments will appeal to landowners. A farmer is not in business for his health, or for the fun of feeding cities. He is a business man who must farm for profit. Had grain gone down first there would have been less selling off of "stock" hogs and cattle.

If grain remains low there will be,
no doubt, recovery from the shortage.
In the meantime Knott, Whitley and Magoffin are "long" upon livestock.— Frankfort State Journal.

Ewe Presents Four Lambs.
A ewe, on the Pleasant View Stock Farm, of Jewell and McClure gave birth last week to four lambs. They all are healthy and well developed, and promise to grow into big husky sheep. This is a very unusual happening and has caused a good deal of curiosity among neighboring farmers who come to view this prolific mother and her healthy offspring. — Wilmore Enterprise.

Easy Life.

"Give me the life of a farmer," shouted the Town man. All right, and with it the big rain that washes away the fresh plowed field; the hot, scorching wind that burns up the crop; the 1 cent tobacco; the corn-eating hog, the packer gets for nothing; the fruit orchard nipped by frost; the wheat the miller gets for a nice little song;
the big note now due; and for good measure the 1,000 other delightful worries that are peculiarly his, and that no other class of people in the world have to contend with. He has more to worry about between 3:30 a.
m. and the time dark sets in than the president of twenty corporations has to bother about in twenty years. It's a man's life, a man's job and worth more than the mere living the farmer gets out of it. Try it and start in on your job next spring with the first thaw and mud. — Glasgow Times.

Selling More Butterfat.

The farmers of Owen are daily selling more butterfat and as the business of dairying increases they realize that but few of them are prepared for the keeping of a dairy herd of cows. More dairy barns are needed, better cows, more silos and separators, more feed grown, more alfalfa and blue grass sown and better places for watering the stock.

In the dairy barns should be a concrete floor on which to mix a balanced ration of feed.

Cows to pay must be good ones and fed systematically that the flow of milk may be kept up.

Cow lots in which to feed are necessary that the manure may all be saved to top dress the meadows and corn fields.

WOMEN'S WOES

Maysville Women Are Finding Relief
At Last.

It does seem that women have more than a fair share of the aches and pains that afflict humanity; they must "keep up" must attend to duties in spite of constantly aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, bearing-down pains; they must stoop over, when to stoop means torture. They must walk and bend and work with racking pains and many aches from kidney ills.
Keeping the kidneys well has spared thousands of women much misery.
Read of a remedy for kidneys only that is endorsed by people you know.
Mrs. E. L. Cullen, 322 West Second street, Maysville, says: "Three years ago I had an attack of kidney trouble and my back ached continually. I had ambition to do my housework and everything seemed a drag to me while going about it. I had binding, dizzy spells and my head ached all the time.
My kidneys were not acting regularly and in other ways showed signs of disorder. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me and I sent to Wood & Son's drug store and got a box. After using them I got over the trouble entirely and have never since

Will Grow Hemp.

A. S. Broadbush, the prominent Shakertown pike farmer, says he will raise about one-third as much tobacco this year as has been his custom and will increase his hemp crop. Mr.
Broadbush is a practical and successful farmer and says that the only safe plan is to raise a diversity of crops, including a full line of garden truck.
Mr. F. M. Hunt is already plowing a nice field of bluegrass for tobacco on his farm on the Lexington pike. He expects to put in just half the acreage of tobacco this year as last. From the best information at hand there will not be over half the tobacco planted in the bluegrass this year as last. The growers say they are going to give more attention to their crops in an effort to produce a better grade. — Danville Advocate.

Accident Costly.

The tobacco situation for most farmers is bad enough at best but when accidents befall them it is truly distressing. On Tuesday of last week, Will Hearn a tenant of Estill Hill met with a serious loss. In attempting to cross Clark's Creek on the way to the Williamstown market the engine of the truck driven by Joe Holbrook was killed. The men were unable to get the truck out. While they were hunting assistance the flood of back water came and carried the tobacco down the creek. This truck carried the best of Mr. Hearn's tobacco. —

New York Letter

New York. — Another man comes forward to swear to the fundamental integrity of New York City. This time it's a laundryman, assuredly a practical person given to stern realities. His regular patrons, hurrying by in the morning, just tuck the bundles in around the door sill, and sometimes they are piled pretty well up and protrude several inches into the sidewalk. But are they ever stolen? "Never," swears the laundryman. "I've been running this laundry five years and the bundle have been dropped for that same time in that same trusting way. And never once has the trust of one of customers in his fellow men been misplaced or betrayed."

Lina Vavallieri, famed for her beauty, her beautiful recipes, her marriage to Robert Chanler, and incidentally her voice, has arrived back upon our shore from Europe. She is booked to sing with Mary Garden and she is still to claim the much argued title of "the most beautiful woman in the world."

The biggest boys' club in existence—oh in history—has reached a membership of over 7,000. It was announced the other day. This is the Boys' Club of the City of New York, and it was started one night when a group of small boys threw a stone through the window of a girl's club in Avenue A. E. H. Harriman was at the club at the time and he conceived the great idea. "I know what's the matter with those boys," he said. "They want a club of their own. Let's start one." That started it and today a seven-story building with a thousand boys using it nightly is the result.

Every once in a while the rotund women of the country hear a cheering rumor that "Hips are coming in again" or "the new styles are all for the plump." The humor always peter out though, in these recent years, and plumpness continues unappreciated by fashion. This season the reports cropped up again. But not for long. Whatever was hoped had been cherished by the lovers of sweets and loathers of exercise were swept away during the first ten minutes of the recent Spring Fashion show. Gynasium classes have taken a new popularity since that day, and so has every other aid to slenderness. One New York physician, Dr. R. Newman, 286 Fifth avenue, who devotes a great part of his practice to reducing the too, too solid flesh without even making its owners exercise or give up their chocolates, explains that his experience has been the same following every fashion show within the past five years. "A good many of my patients tell me that they want to reduce only because it improves their health," Dr. Newman said. "And of course, if they are definitely fat that is sufficient reason. But I always notice that fashion shows and windows filled with new clothes stimulate their interest in reduction more than anything else. And that's a perfectly natural and worthy motive too, I would say."

"It's the war," murmured the public, when it read the divorce figures of 1919. "The girls haven't recovered from the blow of seeing many of them for the first time—their husbands in civilian clothes and without the glamor of the uniform. They just naturally are upset." But 1920 laughed at that after-the-war year and raced away past it in divorces here in New York city, one of the most difficult spots in the country to get a divorce, too, by the way. In 1919, 1808 divorces were granted in this city; and last year, 2166.

Laurette Taylor is back in "Peg o' My Heart," and the audiences are taking her to their hearts as happily as they did in its first season. This story on the world-old-but-never-old Cinderella theme appeals to a larger group of people, undoubtedly, than does any of the ultra-modern dramas of suicide and despair.

Queen lines are drawn in people's minds between the limits of honesty and dishonesty. Three men have written to New York papers asking if they had to report in the income tax return, profits made from "boot-legging."

LUCY JEANNE PRICE.

SCENTS Baffle Scientists.

Some time ago there was held in England a "Wonders of Science Exhibition," which served to reveal many marvels to the public unfamiliar with the work done with the microscope, the microphone and the micrograph. The microphone magnifies sound as the microscope does things seen. The micrograph is the instrument used by the scientists in taking pictures of things shown by the microscope. More people are familiar, to some extent with the microscope than with the microphone. They know it is possible to make objects entirely outside of the range of natural human vision visible by the use of the telescope for great distances and by the microscope for minute things close by, but few have any knowledge of the device by which it is possible to hear a fly walk or a caterpillar crawl.

Many other wonders of science were shown at Surbiton, but neither there nor anywhere else has science demonstrated its ability to help the sense of smell. It can do marvels for sight, hearing and touch, but not for the humble and useful nose. In that field the accomplishments of science have been nil.

Let a man stand two miles, says, to windward of the point where a herd of caribou will cross an open plain over which a fresh breeze is sweeping and it must be apparent that only an infinitely minute particle of whatever matter may be given off from his body or clothing can possibly reach the nostrils of any one deer in the herd. Yet, if the man is completely screened from sight by a rise in the surface of the ground the caribou will nevertheless catch the taint in the air. They would be warned of the presence of a wolf in the same way.

Yet science is utterly unable to detect anything which the olfactory nerve of the deer senses and identifies. —St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Money in Milk.

Gibson Creek is in the limelight again. Col. Eckert, one of the Outlook roadsters, delivered to the Butler creamery $107 worth of whole milk, produced from four Holstein cows in thirty days. Mr. Eckert fed no ensilage—just bright corn fodder, alfalfa hay and pasture, salt and I suppose plenty of water as the lands border on the placid water of the Licking.—Falmouth Outlook.

ATTEMPTS TO CROSS NATION IN 24 HOURS.

San Diego, Calif., Feb. 22. — Some where east of here today is Lieutenant William D. Coney, who left here at 7 o'clock last night for Pablo Beach, Fla., in an attempt to fly across the continent in 24 hours. Allowing for the difference in time, he must reach his destination by 10 p. m. today to accomplish his task.

Just before his departure a young woman, whom the aviator told newspaper men he did not know, crowded forward and presented Coney a rabbit's foot. He thanked her and put the talisman in his pocket.

DEMOCRATIC LEADER DIES IN THE EAST.

New York, Feb. 23. — William F. McCombs, former Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, died at Greenwich, Conn., at 7:15 o'clock last night of heart disease. It was announced here today by Frederick R. Ryan, his business partner.

Mr. McCombs, who directed the Presidential campaign of Woodrow Wilson in 1912, had been in failing health for several years, and during the last few months his heart affection became so serious that death was expected at any time.

Mr. Ryan announced that funeral arrangements would be announced later.

Mrs. Alice Kirk returned today to her home in Chicago after a visit with the family of her son, Mr. George Kirk in East Second street.

HARDING CABINET NOW PRACTICALLY DECIDED UPON

Tentative Cabinet Announced By the President-elect is Made Up of Strong Minds—Hoover In List.

St. Augustine, Fla., Feb. 23.—President-elect Warren G. Harding has reached a tentative decision on every place in his cabinet.

Unless there are last minute changes the official circle of the next administration will be composed of these men:

Secretary of State—Charles Evans Hughes, of New York, former governor, Justice of the Supreme Court and Republican nominee for the Presidency.

Secretary of the Treasury—Andrew W. Mellon, of Pennsylvania, a banker and financier, member of a family reputed to be among the wealthiest in the country.

Secretary of War—John W. Weeks, of Massachusetts, former United States senator, and in 1916 a candidate for the Presidential nomination.

Attorney General—Harry M. Daugherty, of Ohio, who managed the pre-convention campaign resulting in Mr. Harding's nomination.

Postmaster General—Will H. Hays, of Indiana, chairman of the Republican national committee.

Secretary of the Navy—Edwin Denby, of Michigan, a former member of Congress who has served as an enlisted man in the navy and marine corps.

Secretary of the Interior—Albert B. Fall, of New Mexico, now a United States senator.

Secretary of Agriculture—Henry Wallace, of Iowa, editor of farm publications.

Secretary of Commerce—Herbert C. Hoover, of California, former food administrator and conspicuous leader in various movements for European relief.

Secretary of Labor—James J. Davis, of Pennsylvania and Illinois, a former union steel worker who has become highest official in the Moose fraternity.

If changes are made they are most likely to affect the appointments for navy, commerce, and labor, all of which are understood to have come to the point of decision in the last 24 hours.

In regard to none of these has there been an exchange of formal invitation and acceptance, but in every case the selections made by Mr. Harding are expected by his closest associates to stand.

Assignment of the navy portfolio to Mr. Denby, who is a Detroit lawyer, furnished the first real surprise of the cabinet situation, for his name had not been mentioned publicly in connection with the place until today. It is understood that from the first he has been under consideration, however, and was held in reserve for just such a contingency as Mr. Harding faced last week when former Governor Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois, declined to be considered for the navy secretaryship.

Crocodiles are inoffensive on land.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 23. — There are sixty-nine city school in Kentucky with a total enrollment of 140,349 pupils, according to figures contained in the State Educational Directory, just issued by the State Department of Education. Teachers in the schools total 2,708.

With a total of 10,945 teachers and 506,310 pupils in the county districts, there are, according to the directory, 13,653 teachers and 616,559 pupils in the state. The number of pupils is based on the spring term census.

WOMEN IN HOMES AND SOCIETY.

Countless women devote their whole lives to their homes, while others are in the business world, or find happiness only in society. Whether you are a home woman, a business woman, or a society woman, you know how hard it is to "drag along" day after day, suffering agonies, caused by some female derangement that has developed from overtaxing your strength. The natural restorative for such ailments is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for nearly half a century has been considered a standard remedy for woman's ills.

Mrs. J. Stagwood and sister, Miss Alice Tudor, of Cincinnati, are the guests of Mrs. Mollie Owens, of East Second street.

We Cant
Make It All

so we have to be content with making the BEST! And MILTONIA BREAD,
If we believe half we hear, is surely that. And it's not the flavor alone that is making Miltonia Bread go over so big here in Maysville.

The Russell way of doing things right out in the open seems to appeal to the folks of this town. How about you?
Your grocer has Miltonia Bread.
Ask him for it!
